

Harmonieorkest Vleuten-B is a fully occupied harmony orchestra with approximately 50 musicians. The orchestra plays at the 3rd division level and consists largely of students aged 13 to 23. They regularly participate in a festival or competition and give challenging performances several times a year.

Daan Voorburg (1998) started playing the bugle at the age of eight. It soon became clear that the euphonium suited him better and he switched to it. He continued to grow steadily on the euphonium until he obtained his final diploma with the predicate 'distinction for musicality'. Around this time, Daan also came into contact with conducting, Danny Oosterman and the Conservatory of Amsterdam. In 2021, Daan was one of the founders of Fanfare 'Project Orchestra' and also started conducting it as one of the conductors. Nowadays Daan plays the euphonium in the Fanfare 'Korps Nationale Reserve' and conducts the training orchestra of DSS Aarlanderveen, Muziekvereniging Waterland, De Bazuin Oud-Beijerland and from March 2023 also at HOV-B.
